FATHER MATHEW

T. A. SOCIETY

Will Hold Open Meeting Monday Evening With Splendid Programme.

To commemorate the giving of the first temperance pledge by the great ghost of temperance, Rev. Theophilus Mathew, the Father Mathew, Total Abstinence society of this place will hold an open meeting of the society in assembly rooms on North Main street next Monday evening.

An attractive programme has been arranged for this date by the committee in charge and will consist of recitations by those well versed on the subject of temperance, vocal and instrumental music and will be followed by a whist. Cigars will be passed around at the conclusion of the literary and musical programme. This will mark the beginning of the winter campaign by the organization to further increase the membership of the society and it is confidently expected by these in charge that a good sized crowd will be present at this event.

The entertainment committee have worked hard to make of this affair a most decided success and it can be safely predicted that those who do attend will spend an enjoyable evening.

Knights of St. Paul to Resume Work
Monday Evening.

The Knights of St. Paul of St. Andrew's Episcopal church are making preparations for the coming year's work and will hold their first meeting after the summer recess on Monday next, when plans will be discussed respecting the programme to be adopted in the future.

Goes to Lawrence, Mass.

James Morrow of No. 174 Prospect street left Thursday morning for Lawrence, Mass., where he has accepted a new position. Mrs. Morrow will join her husband later on.

Coroner Finds Death Unavoidable

Man Killed by East Lyme Trolley is Unidentified—Thought to be a Farmhand Coroner Franklin H. Brown was in New London Thursday morning and conducted an investigation into the circumstances of the death of the man killed Wednesday night by the East Lyme electric car. From the testimony given by the motorist of the car which killed the man and the conductor of the car from which the man was thrown, the coroner is of the opinion that the killing was unavoidable.

George Austin testified that the car which he was running was going over a knoll near Station 14 when on getting over the knoll he did not reveal the man on the tracks. The car was at that time about thirty feet away and despite his efforts to bring it to a stop, the car struck the man. The headlight on the car did not reveal the man because as the car was going over the knoll the light was flashed upwards and above the place where the man was lying. He assisted in picking up the injured man up, and the odor of liquor was very strong.

George W. Thompson testified that the man boarded his car at the parade ground and that after a short ride the first fare the man was unable to pay the second and so alighted at Station 14. The man had been orderly while on the car, but it was evident that he was drunk. When he got on the car he told the conductor that he was going to Flinders Corners and Mr. Thompson testified to having seen the man board his car at this place on previous occasions.

From the fact that a small wrench, usually used to tighten nuts on a screw, was found in the pockets of the clothes, the conclusion is that he was a farmer. That he was accustomed to being out of doors is made clear by the fact that his arms were bare. The clothes were deeply stained and had been exposed to the sun. The only other articles found in his pockets were pipe and tobacco and pieces of broken glass.
The man was badly cut up, his left leg being cut off below the knee, the left arm at the elbow. He had numerous scap wounds, but no fracture of the skull, while the face was not disfigured. He was badly crushed internally.

At first it was thought the man was Nicholas Bogardus, but on Thursday afternoon a man who saw the body thought it was that of a farmhand named Jack Hadley, employed by a Mr. Marvin at Gray's Hill, near Hamburg.

GRAND ENCAMPMENT

OF ODD FELLOWS

To Be Held at Hartford on Oct. 18—Officers to Change.

The annual session of the grand encampment, I. O. O. F. of Connecticut, will be held in Hartford Tuesday, Oct.
18. A degree team made up from Middletown, No. 7, and from G. Fred Barnes encampment, No. 8, will confer the Golden Rule degree.
The ceremony will be held at 8 p. m.
Monday, Oct. 17. The degree team is busy preparing for the work.
The present officers who will undergo a change of office are: Grand patriarch, G. Herbert Peck, Hartford; grand high priest, Karl L. Winter, Waterbury; grand senior warden, Frank M.
Dean, Bridgeport; grand junior warden, Samuel Prince, New London.
If the usual course is followed, G. Herbert Peck will be elected grand representative. The other officers will move up a station. The grand patriarch will be the position of grand junior warden. Grand Scribe William S.
Hutchinson of New York and Grand Treasurer William J. Gorges of Stamford are permanent officers. The grand scribe will make his annual statistical report and the grand treasurer will make the financial report. Grand Patriarch G. Herbert Peck will deliver the annual address appropriate to his office.

It is expected that visitors will be there from the grand encampments of Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Ontario and Rhode Island. In a circular issued by the grand scribe statistics are given as to the condition of the order.

OBITUARY.

Benjamin O. Lyon.

Benjamin O. Lyon, a lifelong resident of Montville, died at his home in Palmerton on Wednesday at 10.30 a. m. Mr. Lyon, who was a little over 64 years of age, has been a very sick man for upwards of a year and has suffered from an affection of the heart, with other complications, for a long time.

Of robust frame and unfailing general manner, few were really aware of the serious nature of his illness, and his death came as a distinct shock to his numerous friends. Mr. Lyon is survived by his wife and by an uncle, Ernestus D. Lyon. Several cousins also survive, among others being Albert, Charles and Orrin Avery and Charles Lyon. Mr. Lyon was born in New London, but has spent all his life in Montville. For many years he has made a business of dealing in real estate, timber tracts being a specialty, and for several years he has operated a power sawmill, cutting up smaller timber for firewood. While he always took a keen interest in political affairs, he never so far as can be ascertained held any public office. He was generous to a degree and was held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends.

FUNERALS.

Daniel J. Murphy.

Daniel J. Murphy, who died in New London Tuesday, was buried Thursday at St. Mary's cemetery, a large number of friends attending the funeral services at the former athletic trainer.
Requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Thomas H. Tieran at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock. The bearers were J. P. Fox, J. R. Doyle and F. W.
Sullivan of Boston, J. P. Sylvia and Michael J. Flanagan of New London.
There were numerous floral tributes.

TAFTVILLE

Hunting Party from This Place Report Successful Day in Griswold—Low Water Causes Several Departments of the Mill to Close Down—Local Items.

A party of three young men from the village spent the day Thursday in Griswold, in the vicinity of Pachaug pond, hunting for wild duck and other game. They returned at night with two good sized ducks, five quail and one partridge. They say that there is plenty of game about this fall, but that the leaves are still a little too thick for first rate sport.

Interest in Approaching Football Contest.

Unusual interest is being taken in the approaching football contest between the Taftville boys and the team from Sterling that takes place on the Providence street grounds on Saturday, and a good crowd is expected to attend. It is possible that as on Thursday, the Taftville band will furnish music on this occasion.

Shut Down on Account of Low Water.
A number of the departments of the Ponemah mill closed down on Thursday for the remainder of the week or account of the low water in the Shetucket river.

Personal Notes.

C. E. DeForest of Meriden is passing a few days in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hastings of Southbridge, Mass., are visiting with relatives on Norwich avenue.

Mrs. John Sharples of Front street is entertaining Miss Ethel Caldwell and her young lady friend from South Swansea, Mass.

Mrs. Walter Sharples of Front street has returned home after enjoying a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Brierley of Ballouville.

Waterbury.—The Rev. Peter Skelly, rector of the Church of the Sacred Heart, has been elected president of the Alumni association of Niagara university. At its meeting held recently the association decided to hold its next reunion in Waterbury.

STATE OR PERSONAL TAX

Takes the Place of the Military and Poll Taxes Hereafter.

At the first of October one of the most troublesome duties of the tax collector, the collection of the military and poll taxes, was abandoned, and the new state or personal tax took its place. This is a tax of $2.45 per cent of which will go to the state and 15 per cent to the town, to pay the cost of collecting it.

The making of the enrollment was formerly the duty of the assessors, but under the new law it must be made by the registrars, and it is safe to say that those gentlemen will not welcome the change.

As there are many persons who do not understand about this tax, it might be interesting to know that every male citizen between the ages of 21 and 70 is liable to pay a poll tax of $1. Unless a member of the fire department, militia or otherwise exempt, they are liable to a military tax of $2 between the ages of 21 and 45, and when liable for this tax, do not have to pay the two taxes, or, in other words, the military tax includes the poll tax. When the man reaches the age of 45 and is not exempt from the military tax, he is then dropped from the tax and pays the $1 poll tax until 70 years of age. So, from the above, it will be seen that every man over 21 is liable to either one or both of these taxes and must, according to the law, pay the collector. There is a $100 a law that calls for arrest and detention for the non-payment of these taxes.

As the collection of the military and poll taxes has been a source of much trouble throughout the state, the new law will be received with rejoicing by the different officials. But its going into effect in October does not mean that the taxes due under the law previous to Oct. 1 will not have to be paid.

WEDDINGS.

Page—Burton.

Robert J. Page of New London and Miss Elizabeth E. Burton of Danbury were married at New London Thursday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. P. Buck, pastor of the Federal street Methodist Episcopal church, at the parsonage in Hartford street.
The hour was 3 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Holmes attended the couple.
Mr. and Mrs. Page departed in the afternoon for Boston on their honeymoon trip. They will reside at No. 39 Willets avenue, where a furnished home awaits them.

Mr. Page is employed by the Brown Cotton Gin company. He is the son of Mrs. Eliza B. Burton of Central avenue. Mrs. Page is the daughter of Mrs. Edward F. Hopkins of Willets avenue.

King—Eckart.

Norwich friends of R. A. King, at one time local manager for the National Biscuit company, have been informed of his marriage, which took place in Bridgeport on October 1st. Mr.
King left here October 15th, 1908, first being transferred to New London and then to Bridgeport.

The Bridgeport Farmer of October 3d said:
Many admirers of Miss Louise A.
Eckart, the attractive daughter of Mrs.
George Eckart, were surprised to learn today that she had left Bridgeport on Saturday for Texas, the bride of Mr.
R. A. King, formerly manager of the local office of the National Biscuit company.

Miss Eckart was married to Mr.
King three weeks ago, and when on October 1 she changed her location with that concern, and departed for Texas, he took his bride with him.

Only a few intimate friends and relatives of the couple knew of the marriage when Mrs. Eckart today announced the nuptials. The two were married in New Jersey.

YANTIC HAPPENINGS.

Party in Prairie Wagons Bound for New Hampshire—Local Small Notes.

Mrs. Clyde of Mystic was a recent visitor in town.

Mrs. Hannah Bond Kelly of New London and her sister spent some time with friends in town.

Mrs. James Kniffin and Miss Georianna Harriet of the metropolis are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gibbs.

Traveling in Pioneer Style.

A caravan consisting of three canvas covered wagons passed through this place en route to Keene, N. H., where they are to make their home. While here they camped by the wayside to lunch and to rest their tired horses.
Mr. Grant, who is employed at the Bozrah creamery, has moved his household goods to Fitchville, where he is to reside.

Mrs. Marion Eddy, who has been spending some time in Rhode Island, and at Rochdale, Mass., has returned.

Keep Up Cheerful Courage.

Everything is changing constantly, and as the procession goes on our attitude and point of view change. Keep up a cheerful courage and you will see through sunny perspectives.

Paper From Sugar Cane.

Experiments are being made in Cuba in manufacturing paper from sugar cane fiber. The paper is high grade, and cheaper than it could be made from wood pulp.

Well-Doing its Own Reward.

He that does good to another does also to himself, not only in the very act; for the consciousness of well-doing is in itself ample reward.— Seneca

Delight of an Operation.

No wonder women are fond of operations; we heard a woman say the other day that the only really good time she ever had in her life was her experience in a hospital, while recovering from an operation. The nurses waited on her, whereas she had never been waited on before, and good meals were served her while she was lying in bed. Her husband and children took care of themselves, and, altogether, the woman's operation was one of the bright spots of her life.— Aitchison Globe.

Finds an Old Penny.

Somebody lost a perfectly good penny back in the days when a British king ruled the American colony.
It was minted in 1732 and the owner was permanently poorer by that penny, for it was not found until the other day, when Albert Baker picked it up on the Richmond turnpike, Staton island. The spot where Albert found the old coin is on the line of the stage coaches that used to run between New York and Philadelphia.

Reverie.

Reverie, like the rain of night, restores color and force to thoughts which have been blanched and wearied by the heat of the day. With gentle fertilizing power it awakens within us as a thousand sleeping germs, and as though in play, gathers around us materials for the future, and images for the use of talent. Reverie is the Sunday of thought.—Amiel's Journal.

Irish Wit.

Swift scoffed at Irish "wit" in some biting lines, nevertheless Irish wit is one of the most precious things. One soon has a surfeit of the professional funny man in England, the pawky Scot, the American humorist. The Irish peasant never disappoints, and with him it is all so naive and natural.—London Saturday Review.

Nothing New in It.

Thus spoke the dude into the maid:
"I trust you'll excuse my plight; my talk will bore you, I'm afraid, for I feel like a fool tonight." Thus spake the maid unto the dude: "That's all right, but pray—pardon me if I'm seemingly rude—don't you always feel that way?"—Chicago News.

Developing Higher Education.
Henry Bailey was examining a cherry tree in his orchard at York, Pa., when suddenly a hen flew down from a crotch of the tree. Bailey got a ladder and investigated. In the crotch of the tree he found the hen's nest and in it nine little chickens.

Fearless Robins.

A pair of robins have built their nest and are now raising a brood of four in a classroom in Dover, England, where 40 or 50 children gather every day. The birds do not seem to be at all disturbed by the presence of the little folk.

Best Things Nearest.

The best things are nearest; breath in your nostrils, light in your eyes, flowers at your feet, duties at your hand, common work as it comes, certain that daily duties and daily bread are the sweetest things of life.—Ruskin.

Awfully Original.

"Don't you think Charley Pawksley is awfully original?" "Yes, awfully. I introduced him to Mary Smith the other evening and he didn't say it seemed as if he had heard that name somewhere before."

Way to Shine.

The only way to shine, even in this false world, is to be modest and unassuming. Falsehood may be a thick crust, but in the course of time truth will find a place to break through.— Ruskin.
